this title was first published in 2000 this work has its origins in the 1995 congress of the international federation for housing and planning held in belfast the theme was accommodating differences differences were defined in broad terms and included ethnic and social economic and political differences however frederick w boal's own interest in ethnic differences motivated him to invite a number of congress participants to make available their papers for inclusion in this book of essays it seeks to offer experience that can be drawn on by housing practitioners who are operating in multi ethnic contexts it also provides empirical material that should contribute to the development of more soundly based theoretical insights in both urban sociology and social geography

the issue of community identity construction in galatians is considered using two methods first by applying anthropological theories to the mechanism and natures of community identity and its construction and second by comparing the galatian community with another minority religious community asano argues that paul's effort at identity construction is partially conditioned by his self awareness as an autonomous apostle and by the external pressures of the significant groups elsewhere paul's conflict depicted in galatians 2 and projected upon the galatian situation is understood as a conflict between the ethno centred and the instrumental mode of community constructions the latter of which is free from the constraints of core ethnic sentiment galatians 4:21-31 is identified as a conceptual framework or recreated worldview for the community members to be assured of their authentic existence under marginalizing pressure this recreated worldview is ritually acted out in baptism with the egalitarian motif gal 3:28 to help internalize the authentic identity finally paul's letter is suggested to have functioned as a physical locus of community identity thus the autographic marker gal 6:11 directs the attention of the audience not only to the conceptual content but to the presence of the founding apostle that the letter replaces
